Suggestions for Prudent Plowmen.

Phil. Record.

Willingness to work is not the only qualification of a good farm hand. The man who is to become a member of the family and a companion for the household should be required first of all to be a manly man-clean in speech and upright in conduct.

The number of farms on which ice houses are to be found and the ice crop is regularly harvested is increasing as the farmers become better acquainted with the advantages of having a supply in hot weather, and the He's partner with the sun and rain, fact that it can be stored and kept economically.-Farm Journal.

The full streams of spring will wear away much good soil unless the banks are protected. A few posts driven just above the weak points will serve to collect rubbish, and thereby protect the bank. Stick a few willow sprouts along the bank; their roots will hold the soil together, enabling it to resist the encroachments of the water to remarkable degree.-Rural World.

In all horse feeding the aim is to maintain the force and endurance which the horse already possesses, and to develop these qualities when possible. When it is desired to have a horse increase in weight and size and take on a well-rounded appearance it should be done by adding to his muscle rather than to increase greatly the amount of adipose substances.-Maryland Station Bulletin.

On most farms in this country either cloyer hay or corn stalks will be the main ration for foddering farm stock during the winter. These are, everything considered, the cheapest foods' that the farm can produce, the advantage of the corn being that it will grow anything else. The clover has an equal advantage in the fact that wherever it is grown the soil is increasing dered him to leave the country. in fertility. It is economy to feed clover and corn stalks together, as each and digested.

cows and notice if they are falling off in milk. The way to observe the mode of feeding is to keep an eye on the contents of the milk pail.

sponged once a week with kerosene for winter a mixture of one part rosin melted in six parts of lard will be found excellent. Early in spring, it the implements and tools are to be cleaned, it may be done with gasoline and two or three hours after they may be lightly sponged with kerosene.

The Population Of Spain.

Norfolk Virginian.

M. A. Lane, writing in the Chicago Times-Herald, gives some interesting facts concerning Spain. For example, he says it is interesting to know that the total population of Spain is 17,565, 632. Many people, without looking up the matters, would say at a guess that Spain's population was 35, 000,000 or 40,000,000. But it is really not 18,000, 000. Spain has an area of 197,670 square miles. The area of France is only a few thousand square miles greater, and yet France has a population of very nearly 40,000,000. Texas has an area of 274,356 square miles. Spain could be laid out on Texas and Texas would have 76,686 square miles lett over. The States of Pennsylvania. New York, Illinois and Alabama have more population together than has Spain, and are immensely more wealthy These States could borrow enough money, with their whole field of commodities, men and capital behind the loan, to pay off at one coup the whole national debt of Spain. They could raise, pay and maintaia a bigger army than Spain could. Their natural resources could outlast Spain's ten to one Their steam power is infinitely greater. and as man power can always be gauged by steam power you can imagine the dfference. These four States could exist if they sequestered from the rest of the world. Spain could hardly live a day.

Mr. Lane says that of all the population of Spain only 28 per cent. can read and write. Four per cent. can read only, and 68 per cent. can neither read or write. Of the whole population of the United States only 6 per cent. canference from an educational point of view between the two countries.

On the morning of Feb. 20, 1895, was sick with rheumatism and lay in bed until May 21st, when I got a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. The first application of it relieved me almost entirely from the pain and the second afforded complete relief. In a short time I was able to be up and bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs.

THE FARMER.

The King may rule o'er land and sea, The lord may live right royally, The soldier ride in pomp and pride, The sailor roam o'er the ocean wide, But this, or that, whate'er befall The larmer he must feed them all.

The writer thinks, the poet sings, The craftsmen fashion wondrous things The doctor heals, the lawyer pleads, The miner tollows precious leads, But this, or that, whate'er befall,

The farmer he must feed them all. The merchant he may buy or sell, The teacher do his duty well, But men may toil through busy days,

Or men may stroll through pleasant From king to beggar whate'er betall, The farmer he must feed them all.

The farmer's trade is one of worth, He's partner with the sky and earth, And no man loses for his gain,

And men may rise and men may fall But the farmer he must feed them all

The farmer dares his mind to speak, He has no gift of place to seek, To no man living need he bow, The man that walks behind the plow Is his own master, whate'er befall,

And king or beggar, he feeds us all. God bless the man who sows the wheat,

May his purse be heavy, his heart be His cattle, and corn and all go right. God bless the seeds that his hands

THE COUNTRY EDITOR.

From a Speech by Champ Clark of Selected. Missouria, in the House.

The rural editor-God bless himis the most persistent of teachers. Like charity as described by St. Paul in the 13th Chapter of First Corinthians, he "suffereth long and is kind, he days of teaching, I was often pained and envieth not himself, is not puffed up; doth not behave himself unseemly; walls of the settler's new homes strang seeketh not his own; is not easily provoked, thinketh no eyil; rejoiceth not the lips of my pupils, whose parent in iniquity, but rejoiceth in truth; beareth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things."

He is the packhorse of every community, promoter of every laudable as his capital, he gives more to charity, his means considered, than any other cold type the facts from which the He-Who finds us milk and fruit and meat; of the future will write the history of our times. A Word of Warning.

I wish to offer my protest against the all too prevalent custom, especially in country places, of allowing children to go from home to sleep with friends or schoolmates. When "boarding round" on the frontier, in my early surprised to hear through the unfinished revelations of prurient knowledge from supposed them to be sleeping.
